

CREATIVE KIDS SET OUT TO CHANGE THE WORLD as AWP launches THE REALLY BIG, MAJOR, MINOR FILM FESTIVAL!!

The Atlanta Workshop Players Children's Theatre Company has a history of making a difference with messages delivered through the arts.

When we were younger, we experienced the magic of the movies, we were swept away to become pirates, super heroes, damsels in distress, space aliens and adventurers in foreign lands. As children, we dreamed big. Now AWP and their insightful sponsors are making the dreams of children come to life in a meaningful way through The Really Big, Major, Minor Film Festival". These are kids, 19 and under, making a difference through film. Each film will bring opportunities to the young filmmakers through scholarship awards and exposure to industry 'pros'. They will also reach the profound goal of delivering important messages to the viewers.

There is something magical about the movies.....the smell of the popcorn, the hush that falls over the crowd as the lights dim, the excitement you feel as the previews begin. Imagine being a 10 year old director and knowing THIS crowd will now see YOUR film! Pretty cool!

Film/Video submissions due before 6pm on Sept. 20th, 2009

Categories:

1. Movie (10 minutes or under)
2. Documentary (10 minutes or under)
3. PSA (Public Service Announcement, 1 minute or under)
4. Commercial about one of the Festival Sponsors (1 minute or under)

All entries will receive exposure to Television/Film Industry 'Pros'; a public screening; commercials will be aired on television and Prizes include:

Gifts, $500 scholarship grant in each category and $1,000 scholarship grant to the overall winner.

Contact: Atlanta Workshop Players 770-998-8111, awplayers@aol.com, www.AtlantaWorkshopPlayers.com

355 North Peak Dr. Alpharetta, GA. 30022